Unlimited substitutions are allowed, with the consent of the Referee, by the team which controls the ball on a throw-in and by either team before a goal-kick, after a goal is scored, or at the start of a half. A player for whom a substitution has been made can return to the field in the same game. When a team is playing short due to cautions or ejections, any female player substituted may only be replaced by a female player. If a male player receives a red-card ejection, then that player may not be replaced by any other male player or by any female player, and each male player receiving a red card ejection reduces by one the maximum number of outfield male players allowed. Law IV: Players' Equipment

FIFA: Shirt, shorts, stockings, shoes, and shin guards. Goalkeeper must wear colors which distinguish them from the other players and from the referee.

TORSO Exception: Resolving color conflicts is the responsibility of the HOME team. Failure to change when teams do not have contrasting colors, in the judgment of the Referee, shall result in forfeiture of the game by the HOME team. Uniforms are mandatory and must have numbers corresponding to the number on game roster, affixed to back of the jersey. At no time may jerseys be switched from player to player, with the exception of the goalkeeper switching to their field jersey. Each player shall wear the same number throughout the game. Failure to comply will result in that person(s) being regarded as an ineligible player for that game. "Sliding pants," bicycle shorts, or similar equipment worn to reduce risk of injury are allowed without regard to visibility or color match. The uniform shorts must, however, be worn over such pants.

FIFA: At the beginning of the game, choice of ends and the kick-off shall be decided by the toss of a coin. Each team must start in its own half of the field and the defending players must be at least ten (10) yards from the ball until it is kicked. After a goal, the team scored upon will kick-off. After half-time, the teams change ends and the kick-off will be taken by the team opposite to that which started the game. A goal can be scored directly from a kick-off.

TORSO Exception: Competing teams shall present a roster of their players to the game official before the game starts with jersey numbers beside the players' names. In order to be eligible to play, all players must present to the game official their current laminated TORSO ID cards or government-issued photo id either before the game or during any stoppage of play. All drop balls must be taken by two women players from opposing teams.

Law IX: Ball In and Out of Play

Law X: Method of Scoring

FIFA: A goal is scored when the whole of the ball has passed over the goal-line, between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar.

An own goal will always count as one point. Any male player in a single game may score a maximum of two (2) goals. A ball played into the goal by a man who has already scored twice will result in a goal-kick for the opposing team. Women may score an unlimited number of goals in a single game.

Law XI: Off-Side

FIFA: A player is in an off-side position if he is nearer to his opponent's goal-line than the ball unless: (a) he is in his own half of the field of play, or (b) he is not nearer to his opponents' goal-line than at least two of his opponents. A player shall only be declared off-side and penalized for being in an off-side position, if, at the moment the ball touches, or is played by, one of his team, he is, in the opinion of the Referee (a) interfering with play or with an opponent, or (b) seeking to gain an advantage by being in that position. A player shall not be declared off-side by the Referee: (a) merely because of his being in an off-side position, or (b) if he receives the ball, direct, from a goal-kick, a corner-kick, a throw-in, or when it has been dropped by the Referee. If a player is declared off-side, the Referee shall award an indirect free-kick.

TORSO Fall and Spring Exceptions: None.

Any of these offenses committed in the penalty area by a defender will result in the awarding of a penalty-kick to the offensive team. A player committing less flagrant violations, such as dangerous play, obstruction or ungentlemanly conduct will be penalized by an indirect free-kick awarded to the opposing team. A Caution (yellow card) is given for: (a) repeated infractions of the Laws, (b) ungentlemanly conduct, (c) dissent by word or action, and (d) entering or leaving the field without Referee permission. An Ejection (red card) is given for: (a) foul and/or abusive language, (b) violent conduct, (c) serious foul play, or (d) persistent misconduct after having received a Caution.

TORSO Exception: NO SLIDE TACKLING IS ALLOWED. A slide tackle shall be penalized by an automatic Caution to the offending player, and an indirect free-kick (dangerous play) shall be awarded to the opposing team, unless a more serious infringement of the Laws of the Game has occurred. A man should use skill, not physical size to win a ball from a woman. To do otherwise may be considered a Caution-able offense. The goalkeeper may not be charged at any time, nor may the goalkeeper charge other players. This also may be considered a Caution-able offense. Any player receiving a Caution (yellow card) must leave the field for a ten (10) minute "cooling-off" period and may be substituted.

Law XIII: Free-Kick

FIFA: Free-kicks are classified into two (2) categories: "Direct" - (from which a goal can be scored directly against the offending side), and "Indirect" - (from which a goal cannot be scored unless the ball has been touched by a player other than the kicker before entering the goal). For all free-kicks, the offending team must be at least ten (10) yards from the ball until it is kicked.

A goal cannot be scored directly from a throw-in. The throw-in must be made with both feet on the ground on or behind the touch-line and the throw must come forward from behind the head using both hands.

TORSO Fall and Spring Exceptions: None.

TORSO Summer Exception: all out-of-bounds balls are put back in to play with an indirect kick.

A goal cannot be scored from a kick-in.

Law XVI: Goal Kick

FIFA: When the ball has wholly crossed the goal-line without entering the goal, after being last touched by a player from the attacking team, it is put back into play by a kick from the goal area by the defending team. The ball is not in play until it crosses out of the penalty- area.

TORSO Fall and Spring Exception: None.

TORSO Summer Exception: No free kicks, punts or thrown balls from the keeper's box may cross the half line without having bounced first. Violation results in a free kick at midfield for the offended team.

Law XVII: Corner Kick

FIFA: When the ball has wholly crossed the goal-line without entering the goal, after being last touched by a player from the defending team, it is put back into play by a kick from the corner by the attacking team.
